

Call for proposals (Expression of Interest to present) on Microinsurance Presentation

The International Conference on Risk and the Insurance Business in History and The Mansutti Foundation are seeking an expression of interest to present at the Risk and Insurance Business in History conference in Seville, Spain June 11-14, 2019 at the Universidad Internacional de Andalucía.

The conference organizers have agreed to dedicate one session (about 4 presentations) to the topic of Microinsurance. This session's organizers will be Jim Jones (jrjone2@ilstu.edu) and Krzysztof Ostaszewski (krzysio@ilstu.edu) from Illinois State University.

Expressions of interest should include the title of your intended presentation, a brief description of your presentation (which would be about 25 minutes for each presenter), the names and affiliations of all presenters along with a phone number, e-mail addresses, websites, the designated contact person, along with any links to articles published by the presenter(s).

Any/all topics related to microinsurance including technology, distribution, products, regulation, economic impact, emerging issues, etc. will be considered. The deliverable will be both a presentation and paper on the selected topic.

If you have an interest in presenting a paper at our session, please respond to this communication and let us know by March 31, 2018. You can do so by just sending a message to either of us, or to: actuary@IllinoisState.edu.

Once we have an indication of interest from potential participants we can start to build the session more formally. Also if you have any colleagues who you think may also be interested please forward this information to them.

Hoping to see you in Seville in 2019.

Kind Regards,
Jim Jones (jrjone2@ilstu.edu)
Krzysztof Ostaszewski (krzysio@ilstu.edu)
